WASHINGTON CITY.

Japan Looks at the Eastern Matter.

WASHINGTON, Oct 29—Private letters received here from Madrid indicate that the Japanese government anticipates a general European war to grow out of Eastern complications, and it is preparing to take part in it if necessary, to protect Mediterranean trade. Now that Cuba is at peace, Spain has the ability to put 100 000 men in the open field should emergency require it Japan has the mission to Constantinople has been raised to first-class and will probably be filled by transferring from Washington Don Rantilla who is now at Madrid on that mission.

Railroads and Mining Claim Law.

WASHINGTON, Oct 29—The annual report of Commissioner Williamson contains the mining statistics of disposals of public lands in California during the fiscal year 1878 for home steads, 249 608 acres, entered under the desert land law, 72,578, divided among 200 entries pre-emption and timber culture entries 220,983 acres, cash sales, 55 entries, cash receipts from all sources, $43, 3 Incidental expenses of the land service in California, $47,135, 23 347 acres were patented to the state as school sections, 15 500 for agricultural improvements, and 24,007 for agricultural colleges. No railroad grants on the Pacific slope have lapsed during the year The number of miles of railroad built in California during the year was 1,220, which exceeds the total for any other state except Kansas (1,656) and Iowa (1580) Commissioner Williamson recommends that the law requiring the end lines of every mining claim pretended to be parallel, be amended so as to admit of the disposal of small triangular shaped portions of mineral land that may be embraced entirely in any survey not parallel end lines

He shows comprises all that the report contains of distinctively Pacific coast interest

WEST INDIES.

The Insurrection in St. Croix.

NEW YORK, Oct 29—A letter from St Croix, dated the 22d instant, gives some additional particulars of the recent uprising of negroes on the island of St. Croix On the morning of the town on every hand are seen the charred walls and ruins of what were once handsome residences, and on every side patches of burned fields, with here and there patches of cane too wet to burn, although the negroes did everything in their power to destroy even throwing kerosene over it. The cruelty of the negroes was horrible On the second night a mob arrived at the Grove sugar estate and found about nineteen of the white laborers. The latter attempted to save their things and refused to join the rioters They were then shut up in an enclosure used for penning cattle, upon which kerosene oil was poured and the whole set on fire Three men escaped and the horribly maimed in the hospital The charred bones of the remainders are silent witnesses of the truth of the story of this act of cruelty towards the white people, which shows what little chance there was for any who opposed them after the rebellious had been fully aroused The most disastrous portion of the town of West End is a mass of ruins. People have lost all they possessed, and men and women heretofore in good circumstances are now clad in rags and outlanding garments There is a great variety of opinions in regard to the cause of the outbreak. Good reasons for dissatisfaction on the part of negroes exist, but none which were of sufficient importance to excite them to such fearful deeds as were perpetrated, and so the affair remains a mystery. I think the truth lies in the fact that no such outbreak as occurred would have been possible Laborers who had come here from Denmark seeking new contracts or intending to leave the island became excited and commencing their wrongs among themselves, many of them drin king a good deal of rum they first attacked the police This was soon overpowered, obtained an exaggerated idea of their power, and so went on from step to step till a regular insurrection resulted Fifteen estates were destroyed besides large numbers of private buildings and residences A branch committee at New York has published an appeal asking contributions for the sufferers

The Mahommedans of Philippopolis are arming to assist the porte, and a number of transport have been dispatched from Salonica to the insurrectionary territory. The object of the movement is considered by many to realize the idea of a Greek empire, with Constantinople as the capital, extending from the Aegean Sea, in accordance with the wishes of the Russians and San Stefano It therefore has the sympathy of the local intelligence, and touches questions of a purely European character.

WEDNESDAY MORNING OCT 30 1878

SUGGESTIVE INFERENCES

Publication of the cipher dispatches in relation to Florida and South Carolina throws new light on the negotiation concerning the electoral vote in Oregon It will be remembered that the managers of the Tilden case in Oregon proposed to secure a Republican elector They telegraphed that they must have money for the purpose It is now nearly two years since these dispatches were deciphered From the first they have been unpleasantly suggestive of some negotiation with one of the Republicans on the electoral ticket but nothing has yet been made public which would indicate what one of the electors the Tilden managers expected to secure It was a very feasible plan provided the man could be found All that was necessary was to induce a Republican elector to act with Cronin and Tilden would have been president Naturally the advantages of this plan were strongly apparent to the Tilden managers here The expedient could be covered by a very plausible legal excuse Watts was ineligible, and therefore was not elected If, therefore, one of the Republican electors could be induced to accept the Democratic view as to the election of Cronin, and act with him a very convenient argument was ready for justification of the proceeding That such a bargain was actually made we do not assert but if there was no negotiation looking to that end then certainly the assurance of the Tilden agents in telegraphing for a definite sum of money to pay a Republican elector to act with Cronin was very extraordinary Let us now pick up some of the threads of the proceeding in regard to the obtainment of an additional electoral vote for Tilden elsewhere.

Smith Weed of New York was the confidential agent who went to South Carolina on a mission similar to that which brought Patrick to Oregon Weed soon reported that South Carolina had voted for Hayes but that its electoral vote could be bought for Tilden, for $80,000. By the narrative furnished by the New York Tribune, with its interpretation of the cipher telegrams, it is shown that the reply which Weed received from Gramercy Park caused him to start at once for Baltimore to get the money, which he had requested should be sent to that city in three packages of greenbacks, one of $80 000 one of $10 000 and one of $5 000 The time was so short that he was unable to return to South Carolina before the hour of the day on which the vote was to be cast and the board decided for Hayes before Weed returned One of two things is certain, viz Either Weed was misled in supposing he could buy one or more members of the board, or what is more probable, they suspected bad faith and wanted the money before delivering the the goods So the effort in South Carolina failed.

At the same time a negotiation was going on in Florida. Marble and Wooley telegraphed propositions to buy votes, and finally after much haggling and delay it was agreed that $50,000 should be paid to one Republican member of the board, who was either to throw his vote for Tilden or give his assent to a court decision preventing the casting of any electoral votes by the Republican electors of the state But a very important cipher dispatch was mutilated in transmission and became unintelligible and action taken, it was too late

In consequence of these negotiations Oregon was neglected An intrigue was in progress here, but the money called for had not been sent A message had been dispatched to the effect that Gov Grover would decide in favor of Cronin, but that it would be necessary to purchase one Republican elector to recognize and act with him and for this object $3,000 was wanted This was the famous message signed by Patrick and Senator Kelly But Gramercy Park did not at once respond There was a week to go on, but all this week the eastern managers were waiting to hear whether those best United States documents" in other states had done their work and the anxious agents in Oregon could get no satisfactory answer Meantime Patrick had left the state At last on the 6th December the very morning of the final vote, this dispatch was sent to Kelly "The eight deposited this morning as directed Use your discretion" When that dispatch arrived it was too late in Oregon also and, says the Tribune, Gramercy Park lifted up its voice and began to howl about "the great fraud . It would be especially interesting in Oregon to know just what the basis of that telegram was concerning the purchase of a Republican elector to act with Cronin. Oh what ground was it so confidently assumed that such elector could be bought? And who was the man they had in view? The inquiry on this point would fall within narrow limits If the assumption that they could purchase an elector was groundless they were taking very unwarrantable liberty in telegraphing so positively about it

As an offset to the publication of the Democratic cipher telegrams, rumor is rife that a lot of Republican dispatches are shortly to be printed also A few have already been made public, but the key of their interpretation is yet wanting Curious persons want to know what Wm L Chandler meant when he telegraphed from Talahassee for "twenty apples and a lot of small cherries and the inquisitive are also trying to make analize the imaginary William Robinson" to whom this and other dispatches were sent But Chandler asserts that when he was before the Potter committee he offered to translate all his dispatches but that the offer was declined as immaterial The reason he claims was that the committee did not wish to open a door to the admission of all dispatches sent and received by both parties. Charles Nordhoff writes to the New York Herald that all the dispatches on both sides went into the hands of Senator Morton about the time the issue was submitted to the electoral commission The senate and house had both called for them but they went to the senate committee and so into Morton hands It is not probable that the [illegible] think they may still be using Morton's papers while others are [illegible] report that many of them came into better hands from the house committee [illegible] soon cause them to be published If this however seems to be a forced position It is not known with certainty whether there is or ever was any considerable cipher upon which can cipher dispatches. But the Democrats have any such dispatches of damaging character, or can get them they will surely be given to the country soon

In a very severe article on the "Oregon plunderers the Walla Walla Statesman throws all the blame on Shadow Chinaman Bowen and adds that Chadwick was chief

In behalf of these individuals we urge nothing but it is right to say that any denunciation which does not include Grover and place upon him the chief responsibility of the maladministration of the last eight years, falls short of the mark it ought to reach Grover organized the whole business He was the head of it His object was to make it elect him to the senate Though the system can only be investigated through exposure of the inferior agents it should not be forgotten that the blame rests not mainly on them but on the chief of the administration who utterly demoralized the public service in order that he might compass his ends of selfish political ambition Before the bar of the high court of the people of Oregon Grover must stand at the front with his co defendants The action will not be dismissed as to him though he absented himself from the state when the legislature began to investigate It is not forgotten that he was the head of the profligate and corrupt administration whose misdeeds scandalize the country, nor will it be His political career will end with his present term of office; and pity 'tis that term has yet a good while to run

For a considerable time prior to the repeal of the bankrupt act the art of going into bankruptcy was practiced with a high degree of perfection in several eastern cities A class of skillful but disreputable lawyers who understood all the requirements of the law offered their services to enable merchants to fail honorably with a handsome profit and all for a very moderate fee If a person desired to go into bankruptcy and save, say $30 000 with $1 000 he could purchase $80 000 worth of southern land bonds, mining stocks or some other almost worthless securities which have been near par within a recent period The holders of these forms of investment furnished by the bankruptcy lawyers were willing to date back transactions of this nature to any time desired An entire new set of books could be made if necessary, and the requisite entries interjected Then the worthless bonds were turned in among his assets, the merchant biding a cash equivalent till the storm was passed

Senator Hill of Georgia, recently came out in a long letter attacking the title of President Hayes It has been the means of raising a question of veracity between him and Mr Rogers the President's private secretary Hill states that he has made no recommendations for office, but Rogers says that Hill has made many recommendations to office, and that several persons have been appointed on his recommendations During the spring of 1877 Hill was an almost daily visitor at the White House and the principal purpose of his visits was to endeavor to obtain offices What is worse for Hill, the records in the executive office sustain Rogers, as the latter abundantly shows

On the evening of the 24th Secretary Evarts delivered a political speech at New York A large part of it was devoted to a dissection of the fiat money folly He closed thus We may be able to range the great state of New York once more in the column of Republican states If you do this and add to the congressmen and Republican senators and fill the lower house, you need have no fear but that the next president of the United States whoever he may be, will be an honest man, a lover of his country, and a good Republican

The tone of Russian diplomacy, it is discovered by the fearful ones is now more firm and confident than it has been for years the Russian prime minister no longer seeks conciliation The signs all point to a speedy renewal of the war over the long contested eastern question

In England five hundred blast furnaces and over three thousand puddling furnaces are now idle The probability is that a majority of them will never resume work owing to the loss of markets and change in modes of manufacture.

The next forthcoming number of the North American Review will contain an article by Ernest Renan entitled The Emperor Hadrian and Christianity

Exceedingly Expert

A correspondent of the Salem Statesman overhauls the record of our expert in relation to the state printing and makes several notes on it. We quote

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MARKET THEATER —' Much Ado about Nothing was repeated last evening at this popular place of amusement If possible the drama was presented with finer effect and in a more satisfactory manner than on the preceding evening Mrs Siddons, as the vivacious but gentle Beatrice, fairly eclipsed her former effort Mr Ward as Benedick gave indications of marked improvement over the first performance The support was quite effective Mr Howard as Don John is worthy of complimentary mention It was a piece of careful and conscientious acting Mr Sutherland as Don Pedro was excellent He is a young actor of considerable talent but his elocution is at times indistinct but he should pay a little more attention to his modulation Mr Robinson as Dogberry was quite amusing Other characters of the piece were also aimed creditably and satisfactorily

This evening Dion Boucicault's beautiful Irish drama Colleen Bawn will be produced Mrs Scott-Siddons will personate the character of Eily O Connor supported by the full company Thos who have witnessed Mrs Siddons in Juliet Julia Pauline and Beatrice will naturally have much curiosity to witness her impersonation of the confiding, and artless Irish maiden

The morrow evening will positively be the last appearance in this city of Mrs Siddons On that occasion she will be the recipient of a farewell benefit A very attractive bill will be offered Mrs Siddons will personate the character of Mary Melrose in Our Boys supported by the full legitimate company In addition the beneficiary will give a scene from King Rene's Daughter This character of the blind prince is one of Mrs Siddons most beautiful and powerful impersonations During her brief engagement Mrs Siddons has done much to elevate and create a public taste for the legitimate drama She is a refined lady and an artist in the truest and highest sense Those who have been delighted and edified by the lady's readings and her cultivated and intelligent delineation of dramatic characters will gladly embrace the opportunity thus afforded of indulging in a substantial manner their appreciation of the merit and talent of Mrs Siddons It will be no risk to predict a crowded auditorium

MECHANICS' FAIR.

CLOSING NIGHT

The Mechanics' Fair closed last night to the regret of a good many people who have taken a lively interest in it and who would have had it remained open for some days longer The attendance last night was about as great as on any previous evening and the exhibition generally quite as attractive Want of space precludes extended remarks on the results of this first effort to inaugurate an enterprise of the kind in Portland There were many persons who should have received for its success who gave it but little encouragement until it was seen that by the enterprise of those willing to take the risk it was bound to succeed Then many of the doubters began to take more interest and when the exhibition opened all were disposed to give credit for the success which had been achieved in getting up an affair which will long be remembered by all who visited it It is now seen that such an enterprise can be made successful in Portland and we expect it will have many more friends next year It is unofficial information that no one has made much money by it but that a fair profit on its magnitude has been held and those who inaugurated it have not suffered actual loss is a gratifying fact. The Mechanics Institute in San Francisco fell back on about $8 000 on their first annual fair and still the institution has grown to be one of the greatest on the coast. Portland can start under more auspicious circumstances and in the future fairs will increase greatly in proportion and in interest In closing our notes of the one now past we but express the sentiment of all visitors in accordin, to H D] San Francisco's superintendent, due credit for the energy with which he has labored to make it a successful and agreeable affair to all The good order that has been preserved the freedom from [illegible] ances and accidents and the entire management has shown what can be accomplished under more favorable circumstances We hope that this is the beginning of what will be one one of the most important and permanent institutions in our flourishing city

REV. DR. CLARK writes:

I have much pleasure in saying Fellow's Compound Hypophosphites improved my general health amazingly. It gives a clear skin and healthy countenance, but to know its virtues it must be used, and were it within the reach of all classes, I believe it would be used universally; yes, by the well, to renew their age, and by the sick, to make them well. It makes an old person ten years younger. "This witness is true," would that I could more widely make it known its virtues.

ALEXANDER CLARKE, D. D., Amherst, N. S.

I heartily recommend Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites to all troubled with any difficulties or diseases of the lungs or nervous system, believing that had I not used it I would not now be living. HARRIS COFFILL, Windsor, N. S.

Consulting Office for Consumptives, Western Medical Institute, Cleveland, O.

MR. JAMES I. FELLOWS—Dear Sir: We were induced to prescribe your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites by Dr. McMaster, and its use has been attended with such satisfactory results as to warrant our employing it largely from this time forward. A. SLEE, Sr., M. D.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Nervous Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself. Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhœa, Semnia or Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors. Look out for them; they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.

Office, 63 First street, over McCormick's Franklin Bookstore.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE

Cushing Won't

RICHMOND, Oct. 30.—The Dispatch learns from what we regard as reliable authority that Caleb Cushing sent to the President two weeks ago a letter tendering his resignation as Minister to Spain, to take effect at the pleasure of the President, and has given the President to understand that he should not press for an early acceptance of the resignation, but would prefer to remain at his post in Madrid for the present.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—A meeting of the members of the Army of the Tennessee left their hotels for the Grand Opera House Theater. While the audience seated the band played a number of airs, after which Gen. Sherman called the meeting to order. Among those present and received was one from Gen. Sherman, in which he notifies Gen. Sherman that he will be unable to be present, as he is on his trip around the world, and that he will not run into Africa he will be there. He will remain until Monday, when he will leave for his home. Gen. Grant's name was received with prolonged applause.

YANKTON, D. T., Oct. 30.—A destructive fire swept across the southern portion of the county yesterday and destroyed a large quantity of grain and hay. Mr. [illegible] and child were caught in the flames, the latter was burned to death, and the former will probably will not recover.

The Pacific Mail and the Railroads.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The President of the Pacific Mail Company says railroads is now creating competition among shippers. The period of the contract has nearly expired, and on the qui vive to learn the future. To-day several stormy meetings were held between the committees of the corporations, but nothing definite was arranged for a continuance of the meeting, which virtually expires to-morrow, on departure of the steamer, but will not until the 7th proximo. It is said that the Panama Railroad Company is largely creditors of the Mail Company, and offered to undertake to run in competition with the railroad and to obtain classes of freight, and that after November 10th will be loaded under its auspices. Concerning the latter there is every reason to believe in its truth, and the general impression is that the result of the negotiations.

WASHINGTON

The Navy Department—Secretary's Report.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The Washington special says: Secretary Thompson said to-day that he was at work on his report to congress, and that the body in it some new features. This year he repaired ten ships that were not worth repairing, and of these not sea worthy afloat, and this he had done at an appropriation allowed by congress for six months. He said he should have two ironclads in commission. He said he should call attention to the deficiency in the regular appropriation bill, short in his contingent fund, and should urge upon congress the necessity of appropriating money to protect the government against the intense amount of government property under control of the navy department. He said he is now going to decay for want of funds. The secretary says he is having an inventory of all property of the government, and in accordance with the law of congress, including real estate, houses, buildings, machinery, ships, supplies and property of every description. He will send to congress with his report and urge the importance of giving him money to prevent the destruction of this immense property, which, he said, certainly reach $150,000,000. The ships were worth $80,000,000, and the storm in Philadelphia last year destroyed a shiphouse worth $100,000. These facts, he said, would require, and that if congress had given the money asked for repairs the damage would not have occurred. Congress was not disposed to grant the money to prevent the destruction of property, said his estimates for the ordinary operations made at the last session of congress was one of the ships in commission before the end of the year. The Lancaster, now at Panama, has been repaired, and the Richmond, at Mare Island, Cal., as I have stated, has been put in with wood to replace the iron. This Mare Island work was now so rotten that it crumbled in the hand.
